

GE Energy Financial Services Analyst Program

Summary

- Analyst placements in investment underwriting and portfolio management roles
- Gain experience in financial analysis, financial modeling, credit analysis, energy market dynamics and energy sector risk assessment
- Develop an industry knowledge that spans across the energy spectrum, including oil & gas, renewables, power generation and more

Benefits

- World-class energy finance & leadership training
- Exposure to business and industry leaders
- Gain deep industry knowledge and draw on GE Company expertise
- Opportunity to work across debt and equity products
- Be part of a culture that recognizes and rewards excellence

Convenient Location

- 800 Long Ridge Road, Stamford, CT
- GE shuttle from Stamford train station
- EFS office is 1 hour drive from Midtown Manhattan

Working Facilities - Stamford

- Open, collaborative work environment with on-site gym & jogging trails
- Environmentally Conscious: LEED - Gold Certified building, bike racks, & priority parking for hybrid vehicles

Learn More

- <http://www.geenergyfinancialservices.com>
- Full time recruiting for undergrads in their final year of study occurs September through November
- Internship recruiting for undergrads in their junior year occurs January through February

Apply

- www.gecareers.com/campusinterview, enter keyword "Analyst," select "GE Capital" from the Business dropdown.